Mexican arws.

New Orleans, July 19.—The United States revenue cutter Wilderness arrived here last night from Vera Cruz, where she arrived on the 14th inst. with Madam Juarez. A deputation of Mexican officers boarded the vessel and warmly welcomed Madam Juarez back to Mexico. On the 15th inst. she disembarked from the Wilderness and met an enthusiastic public reception, both civil and military. The display during the day was a fine one and at night the city was brilliantly illuminated, and there was a magnificent display of fire works in her honor. She is accompanied by a large party of Mexican nobles. She was to leave the city of Mexico on the 16th inst.

President Juarez arrived at the capital on the 14th, and was cordially received. He unphatically declines being re-elected, and has ordered a new election. He will return to his hacienda in the mountains as soon as his successor is chosen.

This very anxiety and interest often renders matrimony more endurable. One reason why brothers and sisters so usually quarrel when living together is, that they are thoroughly up in every move and thought in their own circle. Faces tell no untruths to them. They make no allowances on the score of expression, and sisters who would be amiable before strangers, and will not care to rehearse in private. They wear a look for the guest, and a look for the family dinner. This is a danger to which a guest is exposed. He has his ideal face, if he be romantic, from which he expects all that can make him happy. The lady who sits opposite may either have this as an inheritance, or put on something like it when she dresses. If her attractiveness be from the first source, she deserves no credit who could not be naturalized under the laws as they stand.

Mr. Edmonds, while in favor of the proposition, thought the bill ought to be examined by the Judiciary Committee, and moved its reference to that Committee. It was so referred.
